PREFATORY NOTICE.

The first Catalogue of the Public Library was printed in 1854, and contained the titles of about twelve thousand volumes. Of these, less than one half could be regarded as well fitted for general circulation. But the rest, most of which were donations, were often of great value, and all of them were desirable for fulfilling the wide purposes of such an institution.

The present Catalogue, or rather Index, contains the titles of about fifteen thousand volumes, all placed for the convenience of easy use in the lower hall of the Library Building, and all believed to be well fitted for free and general circulation. As a popular circulating Library, therefore, the collection now offered to the public contains probably three times as many desirable books as the one offered four or five years ago.

About fourteen thousand of the volumes embraced in it are in the English language, and the remaining thousand consists of books of general interest and a popular character, in French, German and Italian. It is not, however, even for its especial purpose, supposed to be a perfect collection. Far from it. But it is believed to be a collection begun and well advanced on the true principle of a Free Public Library; — that of providing, first, by interesting, wholesome and useful reading, for the intellectual, moral, and religious progress of those portions of our community that are not so able as they may desire to be, to provide such reading for themselves and for their families. Time, however, as the Trustees believe, is alone needed to make this part of the Library all that can be desired. A very large proportion of the books contained in it has been purchased by the Trustees with careful reference to the widest and freest circulation. They have been bought, in a large degree, from funds or from the income of funds given by the benefactors of the Library, but also from funds furnished annually by the liberality of the City Government. It has been the desire of the Trustees to make this part of the Library as ample, as attractive and as useful as possible.

The remainder, which is in the large upper hall, consists of above fifty thousand volumes, and has come to us almost entirely by donation, but chiefly from the munificence of our great benefactor, Mr. Bates, who — over and above his original gift of fifty thousand dollars, the income of which for the last five years has been devoted, as he required it should be, to the purchase of "books of permanent value and authority," — has more recently given the city between twenty and thirty thousand volumes of other valuable and often very costly books, selected on the same wise principle. Nor does he stop with such beneficence, but from month to month continues to afford us fresh proofs of his desire to promote the welfare of an institution for which he first laid a sure and sufficient foundation, and to which he first gave a guiding and decisive impulse. Many of the books in this large and important portion of the Library are more or less fitted for circulation, and destined to it, like those in the lower hall. The preparation of a catalogue of all of them is far advanced, and the index to it will be published without unnecessary delay. But it has been thought advisable by the Trustees not to postpone the circulation of the books in the lower hall until the catalogue of the books in the upper hall can be completed, and its index carried with the needful care through the press. They are quite aware that the institution has become too important to large masses of our citizens and their families, to permit any of its resources to remain inaccessible for a day after it has become possible to open them for use.

It will be observed that the catalogue now published is entitled "An Index." The larger one, when published, will probably offer a title-page of no higher pretensions. The main catalogue, as the annual reports have heretofore explained, is much more ample and important, and is to be found in manuscript, alphabetically arranged on separate cards, indicating the contents of the Library with as much minuteness of detail, both by subjects and by authors, as the means at the disposition of the Trustees have permitted them to make it. Any person enjoying the privileges of the Library can have access to this catalogue, and, by the aid of the Superintendent or one of his assistants, can readily learn from it whatever the Library contains on any subject concerning which he may desire to make especial researches. Next to the collection of its books, the Trustees look upon this catalogue as the most important part of the Library, for it is the part by which the whole mass of its resources is opened for easy use; — the key by which all its treasures are unlocked to the many who, in this community, are now asking for them so often and so earnestly. A large Library without good catalogues has sometimes been compared to a Polyphemus without an eye, and more frequently to a chaos, which it certainly too much resembles. This reproach the Trustees hope to avoid for the Public Library, which they desire, above everything else, to render useful.

The index now published has been prepared by the Superintendent of the Library, Charles C. Jewett, Esq., and by competent and faithful persons under his direction. It is the result of much patient labor and much practical knowledge and skill. The Trustees believe it to be well fitted to its purpose, which is that of rendering the portion of the Library represented by it, intelligible and accessible to all; — to those who are little in the habit of using books, as well as to those who make reading and study the main business of their lives. Its arrangement and details they conceive can hardly be made plainer. It is alphabetical throughout. It is, therefore, as simple in its construction as an English dictionary, and as easily used. At the same time, they have no doubt that it is sufficiently ample and minute. For not only does it give the title of each book once with considerable fulness under the name of its author, if known, or, if not known, under its first leading word, but the same book will be found more briefly indicated again under its subject: and, if need be, yet again under one or more of the principal words in its title. Those who may wish to examine any subject will therefore turn to the subject itself in its alphabetical order and place, and will see, at once, what the Library offers for their especial purpose; — those who know only the title of the book they need, will seek it under one of its prominent words; — and those who wish to find a given author, will simply look for his name. It is, in fact, an unpretending piece of practical bibliography adapted to the wants, not of scholars, but of the mass of the people, and intended as much as possible to render the use of the Library pleasant and profitable. At the same time, it will serve to direct students whose pursuits may demand researches either more minute, or more comprehensive, to the ampler catalogue on the cards, where they will, with equal ease, find a notice of every thing the Library can give them.

The Trustees feel under no small obligations to Mr. Jewett for the excellent manner in which this index and the catalogue on which it is founded have been prepared, and for the great amount of labor, both in season and out of season, which he has most faithfully bestowed on both of them. The system adopted is substantially the system explained by him in a pamphlet which he published several years ago; but when the catalogue of the Public Library was originally undertaken, there was no thought that the institution would ever be indebted to his services, and no reason whatever existed for selecting Mr. Jewett's system in preference to any other, except that it was believed to be the best and the most practical for the purposes to which it was here to be applied.

But while the Trustees offer this statement of the condition of the Library, and of the catalogues by which its use is to be made easy and agreeable to the public, they do not wish to be understood as claiming the institution itself to be all they would gladly have it. Private munificence has, indeed, in a comparatively short time, made the collection of its books large and respectable, and its catalogues, by the zeal and fidelity of those employed to make them, have been prepared — so far as they are yet prepared — with extraordinary rapidity and success. Taken together it is hoped they may prove to be the foundation of a good Library, with a good apparatus to promote or ensure its usefulness. But the Trustees do not suppose that the institution as yet is anything more or anything better than this statement implies. Many important books will be sought for in vain on its shelves and in its catalogues by those who examine them with intelligence and with care. These books will, no doubt, be purchased as fast as the funds at the disposal of the Trustees will permit, so that, in time, the whole Library may become in every department of human knowledge such a Library as the City of Boston ought to have, and such as its citizens not only ask for, but will faithfully use for their own benefit and for the advancement of the city's character and prosperity. To reach this most desirable end, and to reach it at no distant day, the Trustees rely confidently on the beneficence of the patrons and friends of the Library, who have already done so much for it; on the interest felt in it by our citizens generally, who, with their families, daily enjoy its great privileges; and on the City Government, which never ceases to feel the paramount duty of protecting and fostering whatever promotes the education and the moral advancement of the whole community.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. OCTOBER, 1867. No. 1.

It is not necessary to present in this place any formal introduction to the publication, of which the first number is now offered to the frequenters of the Public Library. The Committee of citizens for the examination of the Library in 1866, proposed the establishment of a Monthly Bulletin for making known to the public, at short intervals, the accessions to the Library. We quote from the Report of the Committee the following paragraphs :—

" It is founded on a wish, often expressed, that the titles of such books as are from time to time acquired by the Library should be earlier and oftener made known to the multitudes interested in them, whether they are books fresh from the press, or works both old and rare.

" No doubt such an annunciation of the books, at short intervals, as they arrive, would excite that just and enlightened curiosity for their contents which it is always desirable to excite, and would cause them to be more read. It has, therefore, been proposed to publish their titles occasionally in our newspapers, or to print them on slips accessible to those who frequent the Library, and to whom they should be freely given. But our public journals would hardly, without ample compensation, give them the large space they must occupy, and would not, after all, carry them to precisely the persons by whom they would be most desired and used; and, on the other hand, the slips would be sure to be in general awkwardly misplaced and oftener neglected.

" What may be preferred, therefore, is a Monthly Bulletin. . . . It may dispense with the annual supplements, and it will cost hardly more than the price for paper and printing, which will not be much greater than that of these awkward appendixes to our regular catalogue. Moreover, besides being used for its main purpose, it may become an authorized vehicle for important information respecting the Library, its progress, and its wants from month to month.

" That such a publication would materially increase the general interest felt in the institution, and not only promote the use of books that would otherwise be neglected, but that it would directly tend to the advancement of knowledge among us, is, we suppose, all but certain."

So great have been the labors devolved upon the officers of the Library, during the last year, that it has been found impossible to begin this publication at any earlier day. It is hoped that it may for the future be continued and prove acceptable and useful to our citizens. The present number contains the titles of all books received in the Library during the month of September, and comprises in the Lower Hall all titles supplementary to the various Finding Lists which have been printed.

PROGRESS OF THE LIBRARY.

On the 18th of March, 1848, an Act of the Legislature of Massachusetts was passed, authorizing the City of Boston to establish and maintain a Public Library. The Act was accepted by the City on the 3d of April following. A Board of Trustees was constituted in May, 1852. An ordinance of the City Council, organizing the Library, was passed on the 12th of October, 1852.

Soon afterwards the city purchased land and erected the building at a total expenditure of about $363,000. The building was dedicated on the 1st of January, 1858.

The Institution has from the first been maintained by appropriations by the City Council.

The following permanent funds have been given, the income of which is year by year to be devoted to the purchase of books:

The Bigelow Fund . . . . . Given Aug. 5, 1850, by the Hon. John P. Bigelow, while Mayor of the City.	$1,000 00
The Bates Fund . . . . . Given by Joshua Bates, Esq., of London, Oct. 1, 1852.	50,000 00
The Phillips Fund . . . . . Of which $10,000 were presented by the Hon. Jonathan Phillips, in April 1853, and $20,000 received under his will in 1861.	30,000 00
The Lawrence Fund . . . . . Received in 1859, by bequest of the Hon. Abbott Lawrence.	10.000 00
The Townsend Fund . . . . . Received in 1859, from Messrs. William Minot and William Minot, jr., as Executors of the will of Miss Mary P. Townsend.	4,000 00
The Franklin Club Fund . . . . . Received in 1863, from Messrs. Thomas Minns, John A. French, and J. Franklin Read, as Trustees of a literary association of young men formerly existing in the city under the name of the Franklin Club.	1,000 00

Besides the gifts in money, now constituting the permanent funds, the following sums have been received and in accordance with the desires of the donors, expended in the purchase of books.

From James Brown	$200 00
" Samuel Appleton	1,000 00
" James Nightingale	100 00
" Nathaniel I. Bowditch (value) .	200 00
" J. Ingersoll Bowditch . . .	300 00
" Sally Inman Kast Shepard . .	1,000 00
" J. L. Stoddart	100 00

Among the large Collections of books given to the Library, we especially mention the following:

When the building had been commenced, Mr. Bates expressed his purpose to present to the city, in addition to the fund of $50,000, "a considerable number of books." At, or soon after, the time of the dedication of the building, he had purchased and sent, in fulfilment of this purpose, books costing him fifty thousand dollars.

The children of the late Nathaniel Bowditch, LL. D., presented, in 1858, the important mathematical library of their father, numbering 2,250 volumes and 487 pamphlets.

In 1860, the extensive and valuable library bequeathed to the city by the Rev. Theodore Parker, numbering 11,061 volumes and 3,088 pamphlets, was received from his executors, Mrs. Parker generously waiving her right, under her husband's will, to retain the library, or change its destination.

In the same year, George Ticknor, Esq., presented 2,418 volumes and 254 pamphlets, mostly standard works in the Greek, Latin, and Italian classics. These, in addition to his other gifts, make the number of his donations to the Library upwards of 3,000 volumes.

During the year 1866, the deacons of the Old South Church, of this city, acting as trustees under the will of the Rev. Thomas Prince, former pastor of that church, deposited the precious collection of books, pamphlets, and manuscripts bequeathed by him to the Old South Church in the year 1758, and known as the Prince Library. It consisted, as then bound, of 1,899 volumes, and is very rich in books and pamphlets relating to the history of New England previous to his death, as well as in the first productions of its press and in the works of its early authors.

The Specifications of English Patents, with the Drawings and Indexes, presented by Her Majesty's Commissioners of Patents, through the zealous and obliging intervention of Joseph Story, Esq., late President of the Common Council, at present number 712 volumes of Drawings in folio, 551 volumes of Specifications in royal 8°, besides 27 volumes of Indexes, 12 volumes of Commissioners' Journals in 8°, and 20 volumes of Abridgments in 12°.

THE NEW SYSTEM FOR RECORDING LOANS,

Which was commenced last year, has now had a full trial, and there is no room for doubting that it will fully meet the expectations which led to its adoption. It has facilitated the procuring of books and the prompt recording of them. It has made the record more certain by diminishing to a great degree the chances for error. It has rendered easy the discovering and correction of errors, which will in such a circulation inevitably occur. It has furnished means for detecting and following delinquents, and consequently diminished their numbers. It has also added largely to the resources of the Trustees for serving the public, by furnishing them with a mass of the most important statistics; for the system may be said to be self-registering, as to the extent of the circulation, and as to the kind of books which are most desired. It is the first time that the Trustees have been able to command these facilities for aiding those who use the Library.

The apprehensions which were entertained by some, and often publicly expressed, lest it should diminish the circulation, or be found inadequate for the delivery of a large number of books in one day, or lead to the desertion of the Reading Room, are shown to have been groundless. The number of books lent was larger than in any previous year, notwithstanding that a very considerable number of books were of necessity withheld from circulation. The largest number by 200 or 300 ever lent in one day, was on the 23d of February, 1867, when in both halls 1,813 books were lent, and 1,411 returned in the Lower Hall: and the whole business was done promptly and easily. The use of the Reading Room was never so large, while the loss of periodicals was entirely stopped.

THE NEW REGISTRATION.

Every person desirous of using the Library has from the beginning been required to register his name, and to promise to obey the rules.

The registration, commenced in 1858, was continued to the end of the last Library year, July 31, 1867, and included upwards of 53,000 names — many of them of persons who were dead, or had removed from the city, or had changed their names or residences within the city without giving notice at the Library. Great confusion and useless labor hence resulted. Cards were still issued and books delivered in the names of persons no longer living, or no longer entitled to use the Library. Many borrowers, it was ascertained, had registered false names. One person had in use three cards at one time, which he had taken under aliases. Several persons have taken two cards on one name at different times. Many have been using cards of other persons, improperly obtained.

It is not simply the final loss of the property which has to be considered, but it is the expense in time and money of pursuing delinquents, the injustice to other readers desirous of using the books, and more than all, the reproach to the institution and to the good name of the generally honest and careful frequenters of the Library.

The fact which alarmed the Trustees is this: That while the circulation of the Lower Hall last year was but thirty per cent. more than it was in 1859, when the present building was first occupied, the losses were three hundred per cent. more, and these losses have mostly arisen from the detention of books by persons who wantonly or carelessly deceived the registering clerk about their residences, and cannot now be found.

The most obvious and the most usual way in such cases is to require a pecuniary voucher from every signer. But it was feared that this might sometimes operate to prevent poor but worthy people from applying. It was, therefore, proposed to try first a plan of requiring every one applying for a card to name two persons who could simply verify his statements. Such reference does not involve any pecuniary responsibility on the part of the persons referred to, nor impose any trouble upon them, nor raise any questions of delicacy in making the reference.

But such references, if required of one, must be of all. Otherwise offence might be taken. No registering clerk could be procured who would know all of even the most distinguished citizens. No thoughtful person, it was supposed, would object to so small a service for the public good, when he considers that humbler people would have their pride seriously wounded if they should notice that they and not all others were required to give the means of verifying their statements. In this plan there seems to be the least possible trouble to applicants consistent with probable security for the books, and it is earnestly hoped that it may be effectual, and obviate the necessity of resorting to more stringent measures.

The registration has proceeded more rapidly than during the same length of time when the first records were opened in this building. Already attempts have been detected at forging the names of other persons upon the application slip, and at committing various irregularities which would have caused much trouble and expense, had they not been forestalled.

THE INDICATOR.

A device called an Indicator has recently been introduced into the Library, the object of which is to show to a borrower, at a glance, without the necessity of reference to an attendant of the Library, whether any book sought, is, at the moment, on the shelf or lent out, and therefore to render it unnecessary to send in a card indicating books which cannot be procured.

The Indicator, at present constructed, applies to Alcoves 4, 7, 14, and 17, containing Works of Fiction and Juvenile Books, of which a separate Finding List has been printed.

An upright framework is so arranged as to receive strips of wood one inch square and about two feet in length, placed one above another, to represent each a shelf, and pierced with rows of holes, say five-eighths of an inch in diameter, to contain reversible pins, each of which represents a book.

The shelf-number is to be found at the end of each strip. The number denoting the order of the book upon the shelf is placed upon each end of every pin.

The pins are reversible. On one end of each pin, the number is printed in BLACK ON WHITE ground. When the book is ON THE SHELF, this end of the pin is always turned outwards.

On the other end of the pin, the number of the book is printed in WHITE ON BLACK ground. When the book is OUT, this end of the pin is always turned outwards.

The use of the Indicator seems to have been readily understood even by children. It has proved already of the greatest convenience to frequenters of the Library, and has been received with much favor. There seems no reason to doubt that it will prove permanently useful.

USE OF BOOKS IN BATES HALL.

It should be understood that the books in Bates Hall are freely lent out for home use. All of them, except such as were presented upon the special condition that they should not be taken from the Library, can be borrowed on proper application, unless there are obvious reasons (as in case of books of reference and of very costly works) why they should never be allowed to leave the building.

The list of new accessions includes 720 titles, of which only 16 are marked with a star.

LIST

Of books placed in the Library during the month of September, 1867; also of books in the Lower Hall, supplementary to the several "Finding Lists."

N.B.—Books on shelves numbered 2,110 and upwards are in the Bates Hall; those on shelves below 2,110 are in the Lower Hall.

All books in this list, except the few marked with a star, can be had without especial application.

Days and Hours during which the Library is open.

The Library is open every secular day throughout the year, except the 17th of June, the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

HOURS.

The Reading Room is open from 9 in the morning until 10 in the evening.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering names, from 9 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Bates Hall is open from 10 in the morning until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room; also, such strangers as may wish to do so.

All inhabitants of Boston, of either sex, above the age of sixteen years, all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted, are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

☞ See the article on the new Registration on page 3.

Lists of Books Newly Published,

And received between the successive issues of the Bulletin, will be kept in the order of their accession, in a separate record open for public inspection.

A Particular Privilege

Is, in this Library, accorded to all persons desiring any book not in its possession, of asking, on blanks furnished for the purpose, that it may be immediately purchased; and the assurance is given that unless there is some special reason why it should not be ordered, it will be procured as soon as possible, and the applicant will be notified of its reception.

The Bulletins are for sale in the Library at two cents each.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. DECEMBER, 1867. No. 2.

Days and Hours during which the Library is Open.

The Library is open every secular day throughout the year, except the 17th of June, the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

HOURS.

The Reading Room is open from 9 in the morning until 10 in the evening.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering names, from 9 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Bates Hall is open from 10 in the morning until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury) above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury), of either sex, above the age of sixteen years, all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted, are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

Public Documents of the U. S.

It was not the intention in the notice of the Library, which was inserted in the last number of the Bulletin, to record all of even the large donations, which had been made to the Institution; but the omission to mention the very important collection of U. S. Public Documents, including at first about 1000 vols. presented by the Hon. Edward Everett in 1850, in accordance with a design earlier made known, was simply accidental, arising apparently from the misplacement of a sheet of the manuscript intended for the printer. With the volumes of the same series, presented by the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop and his successors in Congress, and some of the most precious of the very earliest publications of the Government, collected by the late Hon. Josiah Quincy, and presented by his family, the set in the Public Library is believed to be as complete as any in the world, if not absolutely the most complete of any.

The two tables which follow give the statistics of the progress of the Library from the beginning:

NOTE.—To account for discrepancies noticeable in the above table, compiled from the Annual Reports, it should be stated that, prior to the Report of 1861, the annual statement of the whole number of volumes was obtained by adding the accessions of the year to the previous aggregates; and although the numbers in both Halls are now obtained by actually counting the books upon the shelf-lists, there still remain several sources of unavoidable discrepancies, such as the following: Works reported at first as containing a certain number of volumes, afterwards for good reasons bound in a different number; works reported as duplicates subsequently exchanged for works in a different number of volumes; pamphlets bound separately and counted as books; also volumes lost or worn out, but for some reason not replaced, which disappear in the aggregates, but remain as originally reported among the accessions.

Lists of Books Newly Published,

And received between the successive issues of the Bulletin, will be kept in the order of their accession, in a separate record open for public inspection.

A Particular Privilege

Is, in this Library, accorded to all persons desiring any book not in its possession, of asking, on blanks furnished for the purpose, that it may be immediately purchased; and the assurance is given that unless there is some special reason why it should not be ordered, it will be procured as soon as possible, and the applicant will be notified of its reception.

The Bulletins are for sale in the Library at two cents each.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. FEBRUARY, 1868. No. 3.

Days and Hours during which the Library is Open.

The Library is open every secular day throughout the year, except the 17th of June, the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

HOURS.

The Reading Room is open from 9 in the morning until 10 in the evening.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering names, from 9 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10 in the morning until 8 in the evening.

The Bates Hall is open from 10 in the morning until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury) above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury), of either sex, above the age of sixteen years, all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted, are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

Board of Trustees.

The following gentlemen constitute the Board of Trustees for the ensuing year:

	Term expires.
Jarvis D. Braman, 38 Charles St., Alderman	1869
James M. Keith, Highland St., Councilman	1869
Albert J. Wright, 380 Broadway, Councilman	1869
William W. Greenough, 56 Temple St., At Large	1869
John P. Bigelow, 14 Rutland Sq., At Large	1869
Edwin P. Whipple, 11 Pinckney St., At Large	1870
(Vacancy.)	1870
George Putnam, Highland St., At Large	1871
Weston Lewis, 81 Worcester St., At Large	1871

At a meeting of the Board, held for organization, Feb. 1, William W. Greenough, Esq., was unanimously re-elected President. Prof. Wm. E. Jillson, the General Assistant of the Library, was unanimously chosen Superintendent. Mr. Jillson, by letter, declined the appointment, acting on the advice of his physician. Mr. Edward Capen was unanimously re-elected Librarian. At a meeting, Feb. 25, Mr. Justin Winsor was unanimously chosen Superintendent.

Since the publication of the last Bulletin, the Library and the community have experienced an irreparable loss in the death of Charles C. Jewett, the late Superintendent. He was attacked by apoplexy about three o'clock on the afternoon of the 8th of January, 1868, while at his post in the Library, and in a state of partial paralysis, was a few hours later conveyed to his home at Braintree. He became unconscious on the way, and after lingering through the early part of the night, died an hour after midnight, in the fifty-second year of his age. When the sad intelligence reached the city, through the press and in public and private circles, the loss was mourned with a more extensive recognition of his worth than often follows upon the death of a citizen.

On the 10th, a special meeting of the Trustees was held, when they were addressed by their President, W. W. Greenough, Esq., as follows:

"Gentlemen of the Board of Trustees:

"I have asked you to come together to-day for the purpose of taking suitable action in reference to the death of Mr. Charles Coffin Jewett, late Superintendent of this institution. Mr. Jewett had early given his attention to the formation, arrangement and cataloguing of libraries. He had possessed himself, by study at home and abroad, of an amount of general accomplishment in this specialty, probably unequalled by any other person in this country. In the year 1855, when it first became evident that the Public Library of the City of Boston was, through the generosity of Mr. Bates, to become one of the great libraries of the country, the necessity of securing the best bibliographic skill made itself evident to the Board of Trustees. Fortunately, at this time Mr. Jewett had given up his connection with the Smithsonian Institute, and was ready for a new engagement. His services were secured, and he entered upon his new duties in the autumn of that year, temporarily at the library of Mr. Ticknor, until a house in Boylston Place, leased by the Trustees, was ready for the books given by Mr. Bates. He continued his work there until the present building was ready for the deposit of the whole library. He was then, in the year 1858, elected as Superintendent by the City Council, upon the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Trustees, and from that time to the present has been its recognized head. The extent and variety of his labors can only be known to those who have watched over his work during its progress. The noble catalogues of the Bates and Lower Halls owe to him the system, arrangement and completeness which have made them not only indispensable to every one using the Library, but also valuable as text-books of universal knowledge. He was in himself a library of useful information, and the result of its application to our institution has been the creation of a system which future experience will find it hard to improve. I cannot close this brief sketch without a reference to the personal qualities which made him so agreeable an associate, not only to those with whom he was officially connected, but to all who consulted him in reference to their wants or their studies. His kindness of manner was based upon real kindness of heart. In the various complicated and perplexing duties which he was called upon to fulfil, no one ever questioned the conscientiousness as well as the kindliness of their discharge. With this brief introduction, I submit the matter to your consideration, with the desire that there shall be placed upon our records a suitable memorial of the services which he has rendered to the Library, and of our appreciation of his qualities as a man."

The following preambles and resolutions were then passed by a unanimous vote, all present rising as a mark of respect: —

"Whereas, We have been suddenly called upon to recognize the hand of Divine Providence, laid in token of His will to receive him, upon the head of one who was connected with us by both official and friendly ties; and

"Whereas, In the loss of our endeared Superintendent we feel no common sorrow, and experience unwonted bewilderment; therefore be it

"Resolved, That in the death of Charles Coffin Jewett this Library is deprived of a steadfast friend, and an officer of such ingenious mind and such rare knowledge apposite to his duty, that we hardly know where to find his equal.

"Resolved, That during the years that he has borne official relations to this Board and its predecessors, he has been found to have unvarying courtesy, Christian kindliness, prudence in counsel, a skilful readiness in practical devices, and untiring forethought, destined to inure to the benefit of this institution.

"Resolved, That the President be requested to close the Library on the day set apart for his funeral.

"Resolved, That we testify our most sincere attachment to our departed friend by attending in a body the ceremonies of his burial.

"Resolved, That inasmuch as the deceased endeared himself to all with whom he came in contact, we know we anticipate the wishes of the past Trustees, and present and past attendants of the Library in inviting them to join with us in the last solemnities of respect.

"Resolved, That these proceedings be entered upon the records of this Board.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of Mr. Jewett, with the assurance of our entire sympathy for them in the loss of a husband and a father who was as conspicuous in those relations as he was efficient in others, more particularly within our cognizance.

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to His Honor the Mayor, for the information of the City Council.

The funeral ceremonies took place at Trinity Church, in this city, on Saturday, the 11th inst., at noon; and were conducted by Bishop Eastburn, assisted by the Rev. Henry Burroughs, Jr., of Christ Church, Quincy. The following gentlemen acted as pall-bearers: —

Hon. George S. Hillard.
Hon. Charles R. Train.
Charles Folsom, Esq.
Dr. John Appleton, Librarian of the Historical Society.
Dr. Samuel C. Jackson, of the State Library.
Hon. Edward Avery, of the Senate.
Wm. F. Poole, Esq., of the Boston Athenæum.
Prof. Wm. E. Jillson, General Assistant of the Public Library.

A large congregation was present, consisting of the family of the deceased, the present and past Trustees and attendants of the Library, and many men of prominent station and name. The remains were deposited beneath the church.

New Books.

A large invoice of French and German books has arrived, the titles of which will appear in the next Bulletin; and an invoice of Italian books is now on the way. We have to acknowledge also the receipt, from Wm. Wheelwright, Esq., of Buenos Ayres, of a valuable donation of books pertaining to South American countries. Drs. John and B. Joy Jeffries have also given us, since our last report, a valuable collection of medical works.

Periodicals.

Nearly twenty new periodicals have been ordered for the Reading Room, mostly English; and in most cases the back volumes have been procured for the shelves of the Library.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. APRIL, 1868. No. 4.

The Library is Open

Every secular day throughout the year, except the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

The Reading Room, containing about two hundred and seventy American and foreign periodicals, is open from 9, A. M. until 10, P. M.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering the names of those desiring to use the Library, from 9, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Bates Hall is open for delivery of books for home use as well as for use in the hall, from 10, A. M. until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury) above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury), of either sex, above the age of sixteen years, all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, though not residents, who have signed the application card and given satisfactory reference to two responsible citizens; and all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

Note.—Recent changes made by the Trustees in the "Rules and Regulations" are embodied in the above paragraphs.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. JUNE, 1868. No. 5.

The Library is Open

Every secular day throughout the year, except the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

The Reading Room, containing about two hundred and seventy American and foreign periodicals, is open from 9, A. M. until 10, P. M.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering the names of those desiring to use the Library, from 9, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Bates Hall is open for delivery of books for home use as well as for use in the hall, from 10, A. M. until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury) above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury), of either sex, above the age of sixteen years; all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, though not residents, who have signed the application card and given satisfactory reference to two responsible citizens; and all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted, are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

Board of Trustees.

Deficiencies in New England Periodicals and Transactions. No. 2.

We intend, from time to time, to publish in this way lists of our deficiencies, hoping that if such lists come to the notice of any friends of the Library, they may be induced to help us in making the sets complete, either by gift or sale. Whenever, under any title, the volumes we now have are stated [within brackets], any volumes not so designated will be acceptable.

List No. 1 brought us material aid from other Libraries and from individuals; and we would particularly return our thanks to the American Antiquarian Society and the Library of Yale College.

The present list is a revision of No. 1, with some additional titles.

BULLETIN

OF THE

PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON.

BOSTON. SEPTEMBER, 1868. No. 6.

The Library is Open

Every secular day throughout the year, except the five legal holidays, and such other days as the Trustees may direct.

The Reading Room, containing about two hundred and ninety American and foreign periodicals, is open from 9, A. M. until 10, P. M.

The Fine Arts Room is open, for the purpose of registering the names of those desiring to use the Library, from 9, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Lower Hall is open, for the delivery of books, from 10, A. M. until 8, P. M.

The Bates Hall is open for delivery of books for home use as well as for use in the hall, from 10, A. M. until one half hour before sunset.

Persons admitted to the use of the Library.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury) above the age of fourteen years may use the Reading Room.

All inhabitants of Boston (including Roxbury), of either sex, above the age of sixteen years; all Clergymen and Teachers having regular occupation in the city, though not residents, who have signed the application card and given satisfactory reference to two responsible citizens; and all, even if under sixteen, who have received certificates of graduation, medals, or Lawrence prizes, from the Public Schools, and are still inhabitants of Boston, or who belong to the Girls' High and Normal School, are entitled to a full use of the Library.

All members of such other of the higher educational institutions in the city as the Trustees may have especially permitted, are entitled to a full or a partial use of the Library.

Any stranger, or person visiting the city, may, on being properly recommended, make use of the books within the Library building.

Board of Trustees.

MILTON, J. Paradise lost. Boston, 1855. 2v. 5590.1

BOOKS ON PHYSIOLOGY, ETC.

This bulletin contains the titles of some four hundred and fifty volumes on physiology and kindred sciences, being such part of the library of Prof. Brown-Séquard, as our collection did not already possess, and which was added by purchase.

LIST

Of books placed in the Library during the months of June, July, and August, 1868.

N. B. — Books on shelves numbered 2110 and upwards are in the Bates Hall; those on shelves below 2110 are in the Lower Hall. B. H. means Bates Hall; R. R., Reading Room.

☞ In the headings the German diphthongs ä, ö, ü, are written ae, oe, ue; Goethe occurs, for example, in alphabetical order before Goldsmith instead of after. A single dash indicates the omission of an author's name; a second dash, the omission of the preceding title.

All books in this list, except the few which are starred, can be had without special application.
